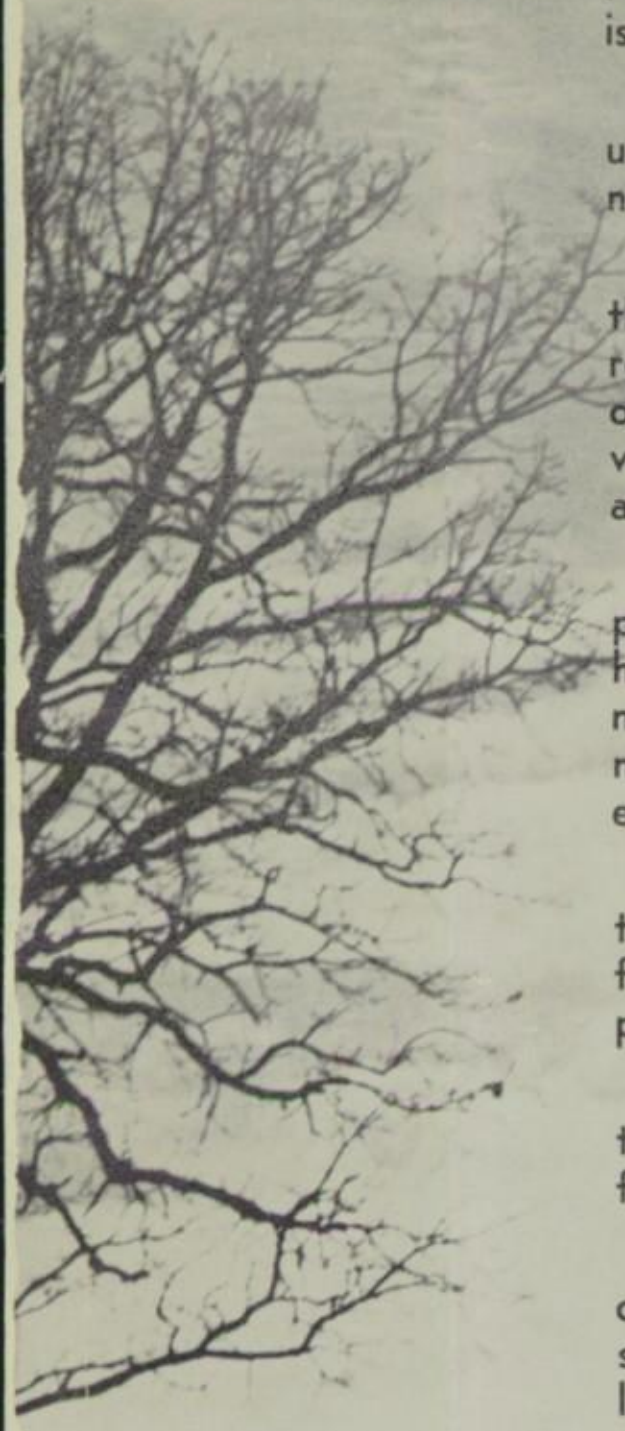
life is a road



. . . and we are the travellers, for "we have no lasting city here; our goal is the city that is one day to be."

Past an ever changing landscape the four-year journey at Loras takes us. The road dips now and then, so that our vision is a valley; mounts now and then so that we face the stars.

The traveller on a strange road gets vivid impressions of individual things, but only a confused impression of the journey in its totality. A review of the whole trip at the end of the journey may very well be full of surprises. In very much the same way a traveller through life gets vivid impressions of things near at hand; confused impressions of things at a distance; but of the whole plan of life, no idea at all.

Very often the traveller will have only a confused and uncertain impression of the relations of these things one to another. In fact, it may happen that a man who merely lives, and neither reflects nor learns, does not even suspect relationships, but thinks of all things as accidents with no reason in themselves save that they happened, and no connection with each other save that one came earlier and one came later.

It is our plan in this yearbook to compare life to a road and ourselves to travellers. The completed book, we hope, will serve as a review of the four-year journey at Loras—a review that will help us gather a clear picture of this journey.

With a short explanation on each division page we have tried to show the relationship of one event to another and the relationship of the different activities to our journey as a whole.

With the four-year leg of this journey ended we will start out anew on the further journey, confident in the map we carry. Our goal is to say with St. Paul, "I have finished the course; I have kept the faith. I look forward to the prize that is waiting for me, the prize I have earned."

God leads his chosen children on extraordinary paths.
This is an extraordinary path
A noble road
And a sacred way.
God Himself trod it:
That a person should suffer pain and
Yet be without guilt.
Free is the soul on this road
And without ache of heart,
For she willeth not otherwise than what her Lord
Who Doth all things most well.

Sister Mary Amalia returns to Mount Saint Francis.

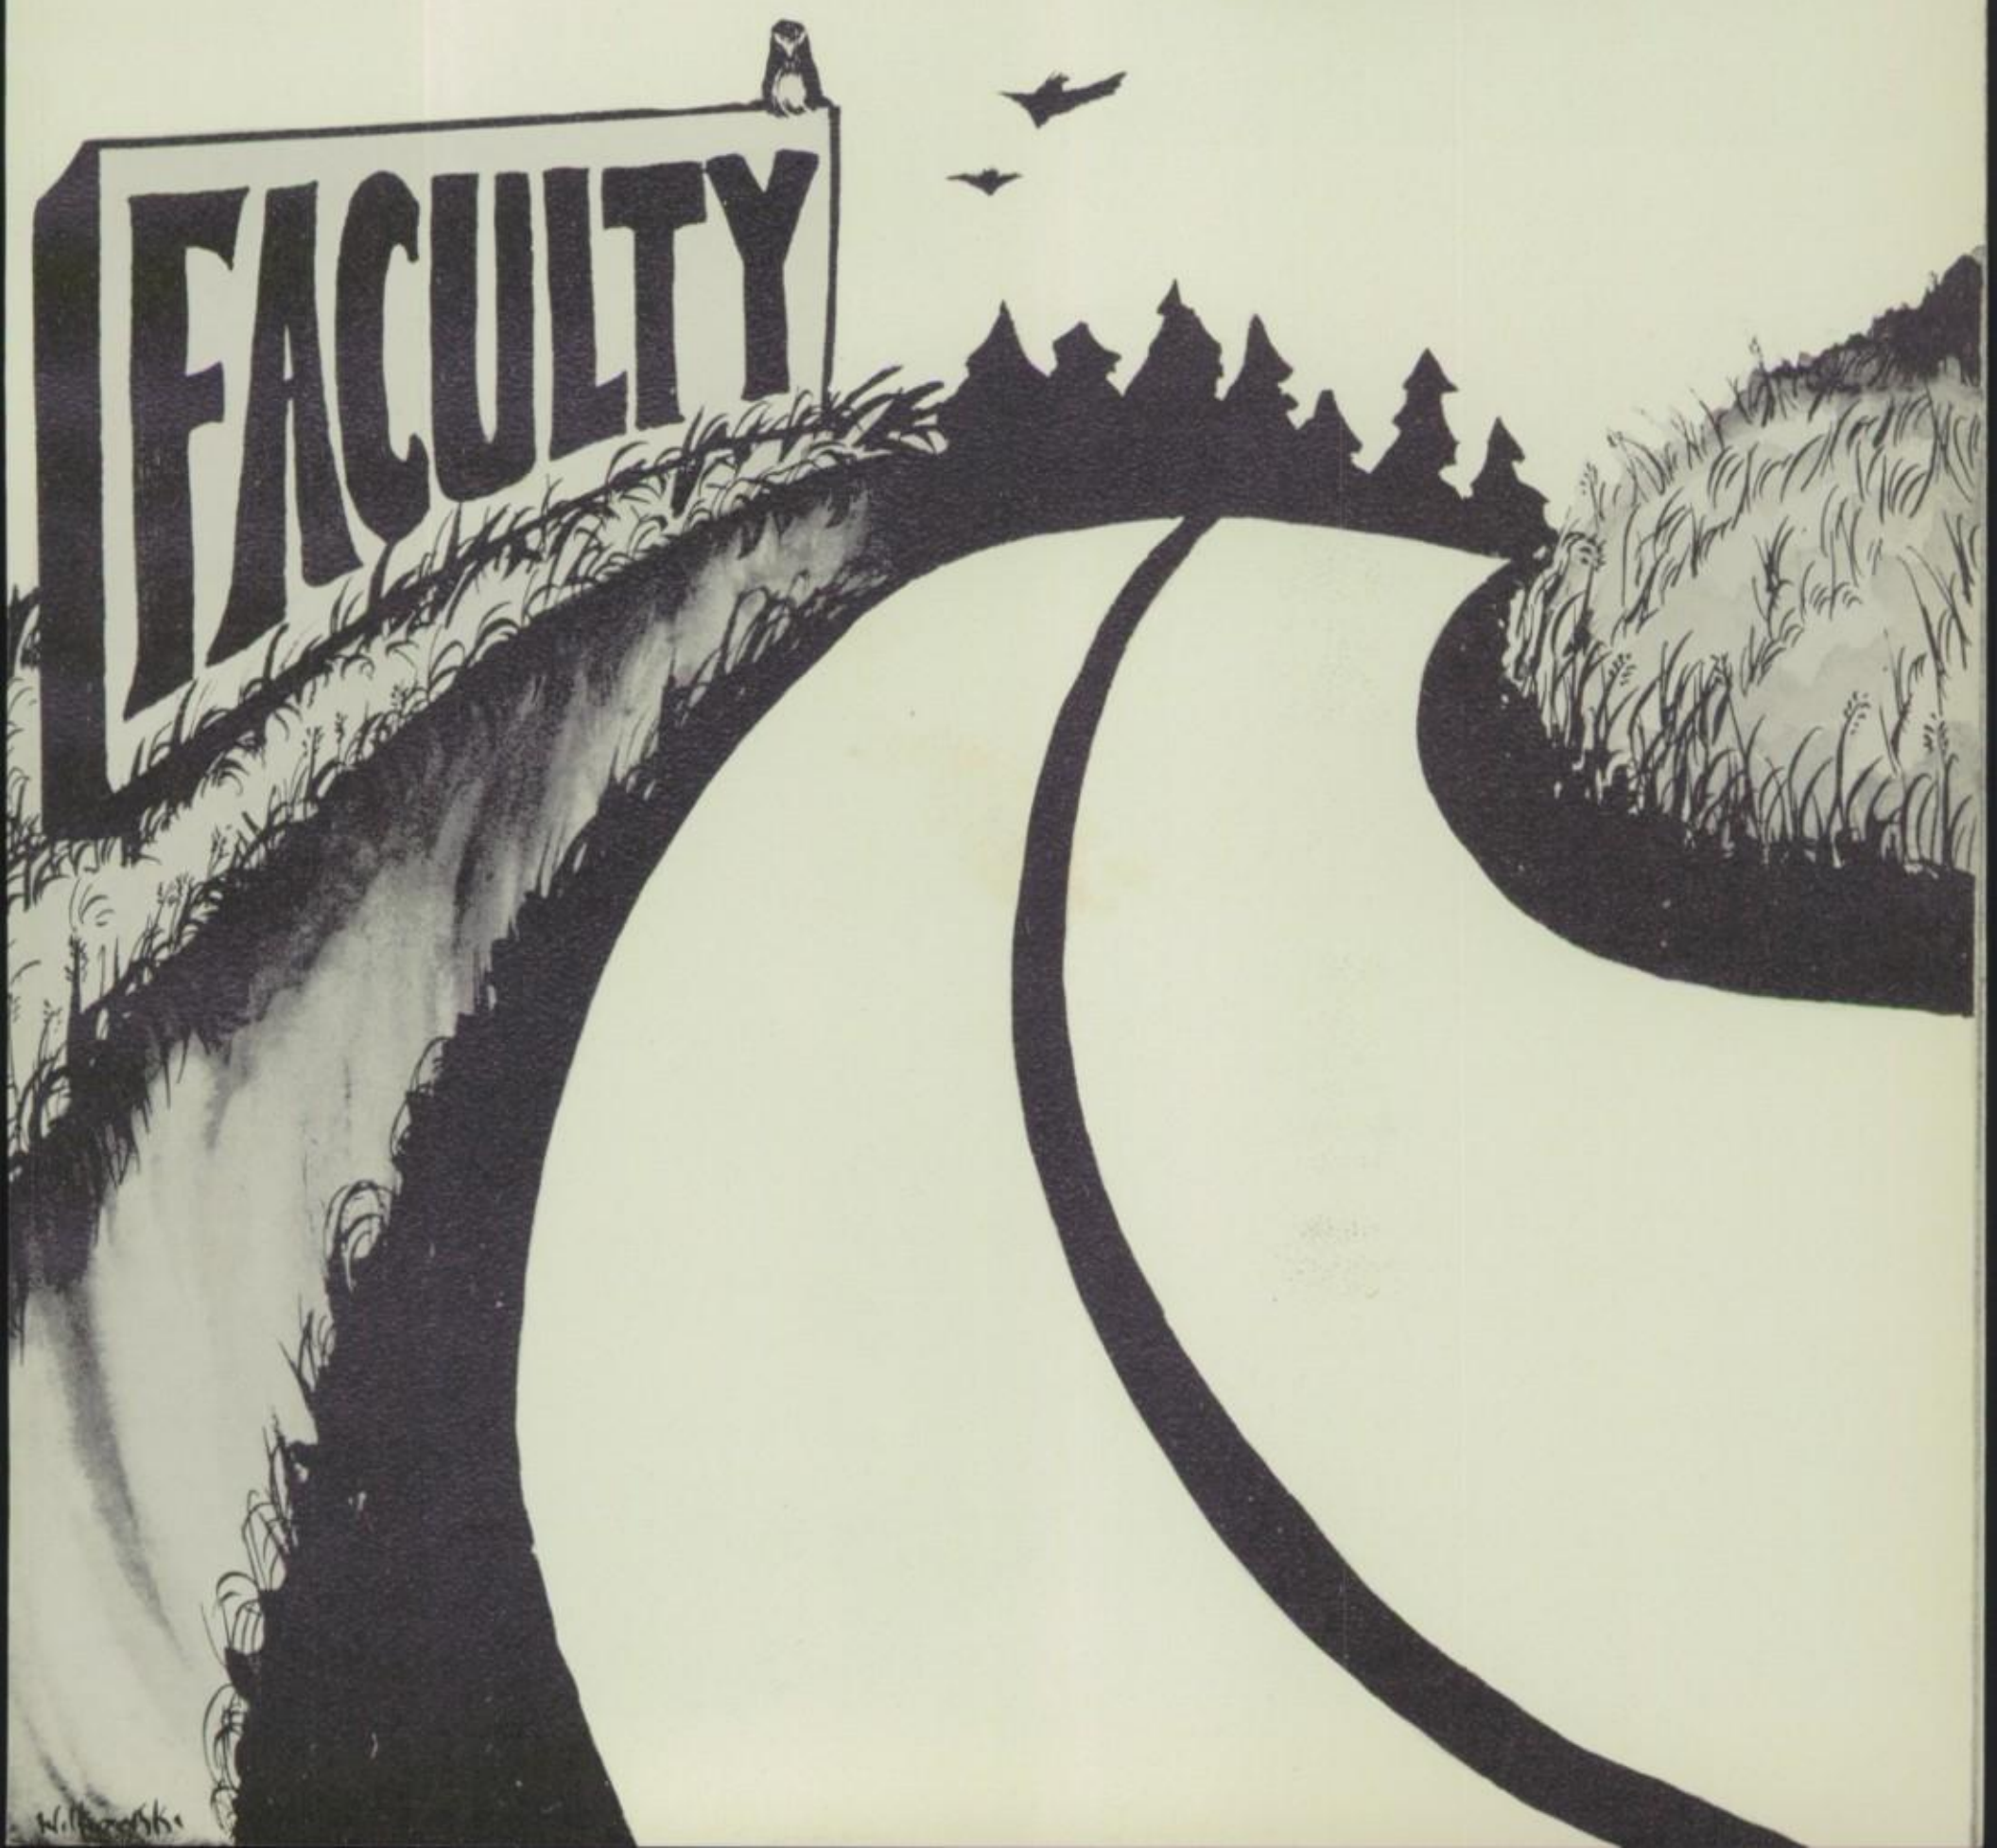
fifty-five unselfish years

. . . devoted to soothing the selfish whims of others is a marvelous act of love. But we can proudly say that we have known such a person, Sister Amalia.

From 1899 until 1954, when she received a higher calling to pray for the souls of others, Sister Amalia carred out the tasks assigned to her with cheerfulness and overwhelming vigor. We cannot help but feel that through the years Sister Amalia not only gained the students respect and love, but also gave the example which urged them on to g r e a t e r heights in their journey through life. To her, we proudly dedicate this Log.

Who are they that stand along the road and gesture invitingly? No traffic cop would be caught in a compromising attitude like that! Only learned ones would dare to explain the road. Lift your glance to the faculty, attend, and comprehend! They offer us a free road map for the journey ahead.



THE MOST REVEREND
LORAS T. LANE, D.D.
President

REV. ROGER E. O'BRIEN, M.A.

"You name it, he's taught it," is the only proper way to introduce our renowned principal. Taking over the reins from Father Watters three years ago, Father O'Brien has won the respect and admiration of all the students. We will long remember him and his words of wisdom.

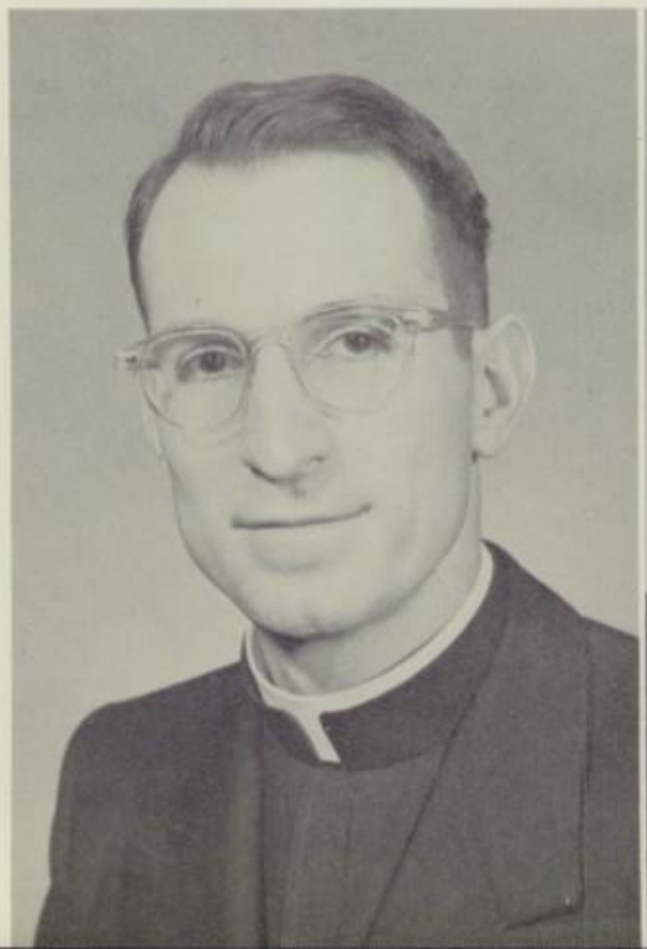
and faculty

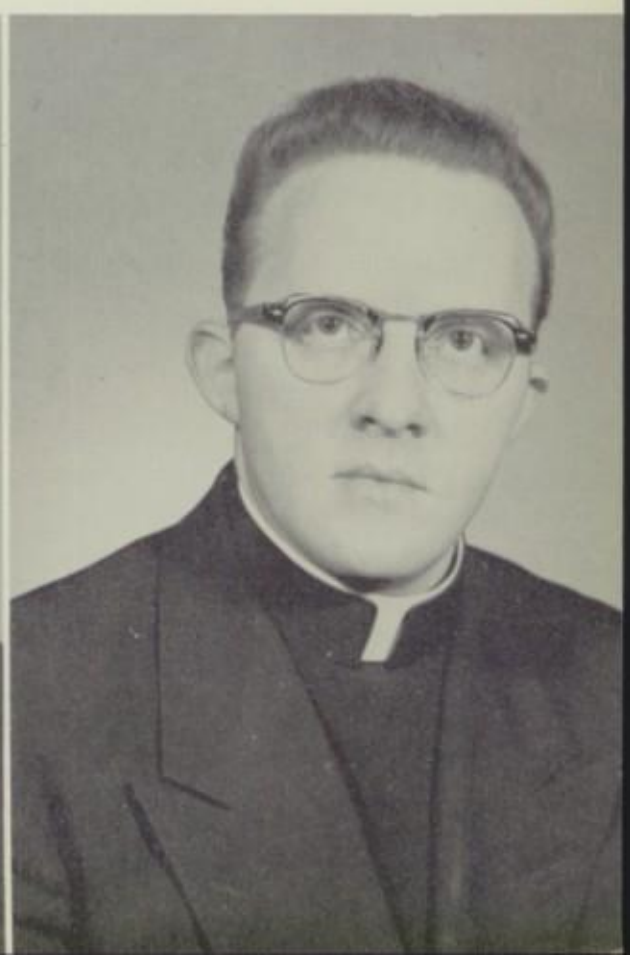
REV. EUGENE C. KUTSCH, B.A.

The list of achievements of our assistant principal reads like a Who's Who: moderator of the student council, Y.C.S., interschool council, boarder council, hobby club, and coach of sophomore basketball. Besides these many and varied activities, Fr. Kutsch teaches algebra and mechanical drawing.

REV. ROBERT M. HIRSCH, B.A.

After completing his first year of teaching at Loras, Father Hirsch was appointed assistant principal for the 54-55 school year. Teacher of Advanced Latin, he also finds time to act as moderator of the dance committee, head of the publicity department and to take charge of the book rental system.





Sgt. 1c JOSEPH A. BAUMANN

The organization and training of the drill team was one of the greatest tasks facing Sgt. Baumann this year, in addition to his regular R.O.T.C. classes. Before coming to Loras in 1951, he was a member of the 187th Airborne R.C.T. He is a native of Kenosha, Wisconsin.

REV. JERALD BLACKBURN, B.A.

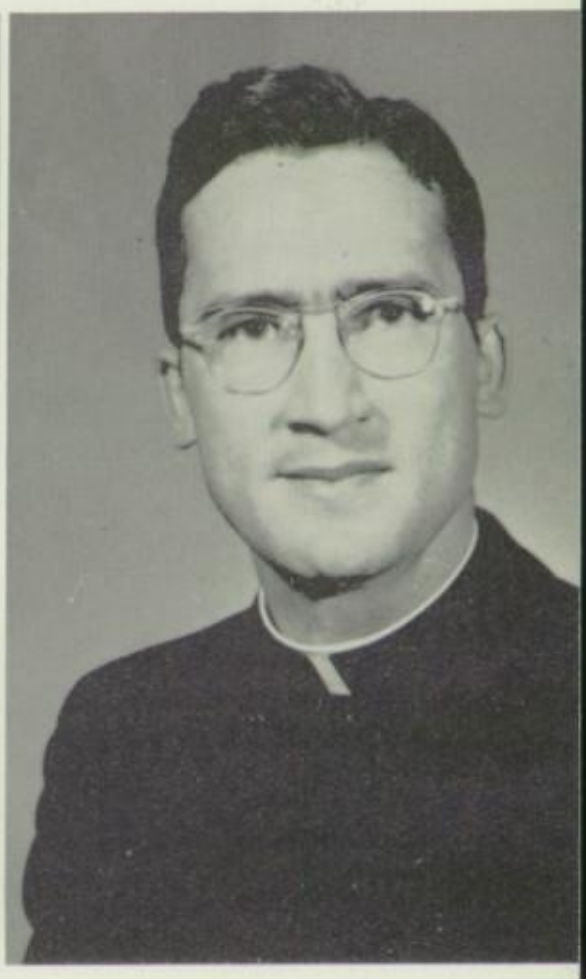
If you were ever on fourth floor on Wednesday nights between seven and nine p.m., you have probably heard the booming voice of Father Blackburn trying to inject music into the souls of his glee club members. Besides glee club, he teaches sophomore religion and is in charge of the college glee club.

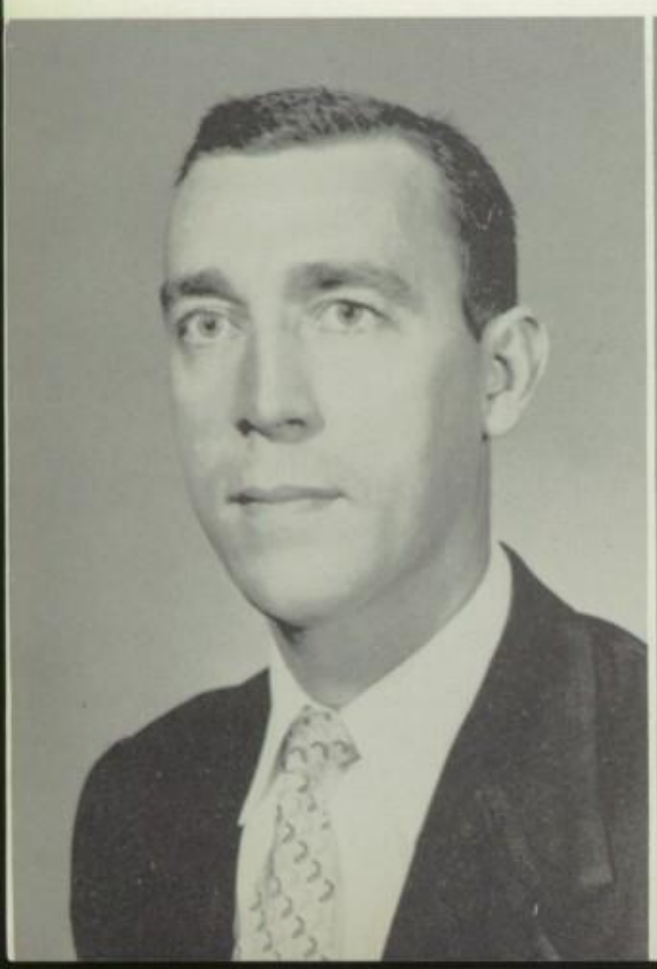
REV. ALBERT CARMAN, M.A.

Since his arrival on the Loras campus in 1946, Father Carman has become well known for his splendid work as teacher of sophomore Latin and as director of the Loras College vested choir. For the past three years, he has acted as homeroom teacher for division 2B.

REV. RAYMOND J. COLLINS, M.S.

Father's first year at Loras found him taking on the tremendous task of teaching freshman algebra and senior physics. He graduated from Loras College in 1949, completing his work for a master's degree in mathematics shortly after his ordination in 1954.





MR. VAN P. COMBS, B.A.

Responsible for the superior coaching of the Gub basketball team for the past six seasons, Coach Combs, a native Kentuckian, also carries a full time teaching program in general science and physiology. He spends his spare time coaching freshman track.

MR. JACK DALE, B.A.

The list of extra-curricular activities presided over by Mr. Dale includes day student intramurals, freshman basketball and assistant football and track coach. He has taught American History, economics, American Government and physical education since coming to Loras in 1951.

M-Sgt. ROBERT W. EIKENBERRY

Coming to Loras from the Airborne School of Fort Benning, Georgia, Sgt. Eikenberry spent his first year teaching military science to the R.O.T.C. cadets. He received his pre-army training at Upper Iowa University and Oelwein High School.

REV. ERNEST J. ENGLER, M.A.

One of the many "whip crackers" at Loras Academy, Father Engler has been moderator of the Log for the past two years. Keeping the freshmen and sophomores on their toes in Latin and controlling 1A homeroom, along with moderating the camera club fills up his schedule.

MR. VAUGHN GAYMAN, M.A.

A familiar figure at all Loras football and basketball games, Mr. Gayman has directed the Loras band since 1941 In addition to teaching band at the Academy, he is also a faculty member of Loras College, where he teaches speech and directs the college band.

REV. PAUL J. GRACE, B.A.

Although carrying both a full schedule of English classes and having charge of 3D homeroom, Father Grace is able to find time to moderate the Crest. To prepare the students to edit the school paper, Father Grace also teaches a sophomore journalism class.

M-Sgt. DALE L. HANKS

Arriving at Loras Academy in 1953, Sgt. Hanks immediately took upon himself the responsibility of teaching various phases of military science to the sophomore R.O.T.C. classes. Formerly stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, he attended high school in Lake City, Iowa, his home town.

MR. THOMAS HURM, B.A.

Moderating the Dads' Club and teaching English and commercial subjects were Mr. Hurm's duties during his first year at Loras Academy. Prior to Loras he taught at Jefferson Junior High School and the high school at Andrew, Iowa.

MISS JANE KEAN

Graduating as a member of the class of '54 from St. Joseph's Academy, Miss Kean successfully completed her first year as secretary to the principal at Loras. Although her home town is Potosi, Wisconsin, she received her grade school and high school training in Dubuque.

MRS. R. A. KEARNS

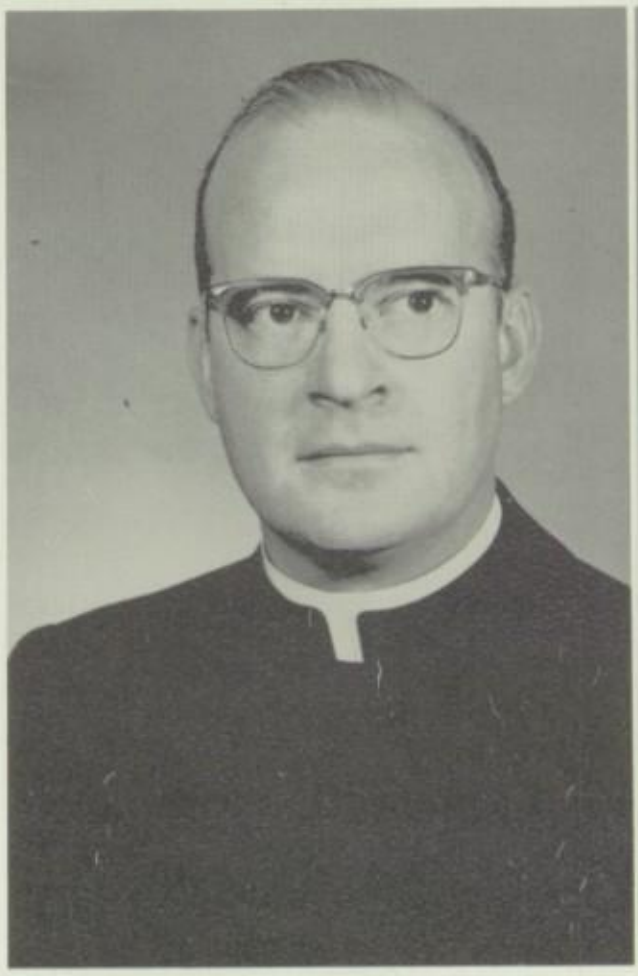
The Loras boarders see Mrs. Kearns often as they draw their weekly allowance from the Bursar's Office. She began her duties as Father Whalen's secretary July 1, 1953, and since that time has been kept very busy balancing books and making reports.

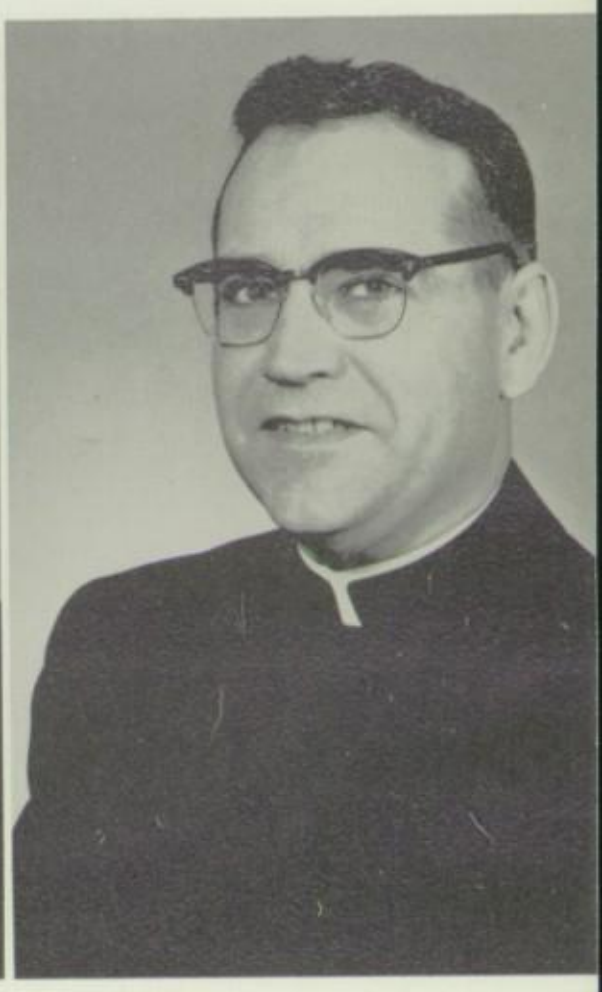
REV. RICHARD R. KRAPFL, B.A.

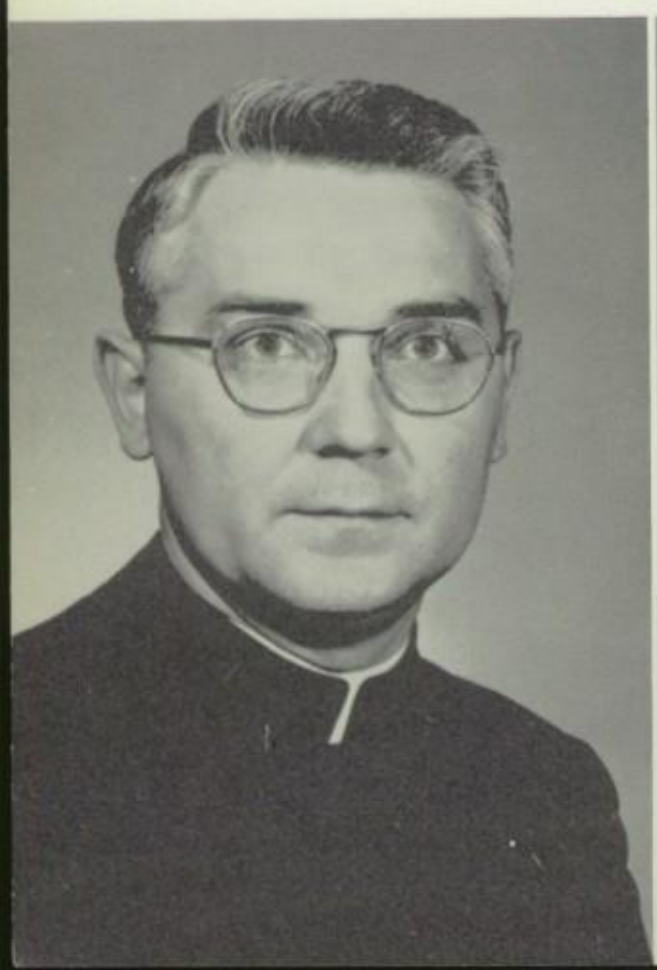
Although a busy pastor of St. Catherine's parish, Father Krapfl has found time during the past two years to drive to Loras every morning in order to conduct classes in freshman Latin and religion. He is a native of Dyersville, Iowa, and he graduated from Loras College in 1938.

REV. CHARLES F. LaBARGE, B.A.

This experienced and capable teacher, who has been at Loras since his ordination in 1946, teaches junior English and freshman general science. 3B is proud to have him as their homeroom teacher, and the tennis team to hail him as their coach.







REV. FRANCIS A. LANA, B.A.

For five years Loras Academy has been graced by the presence of this outstanding religion teacher, who for the last two years, has also been spiritual director. He moderates the Sodality, religious committee of the student council and the missions.

MRS. DAN LENEHAN, B.A.

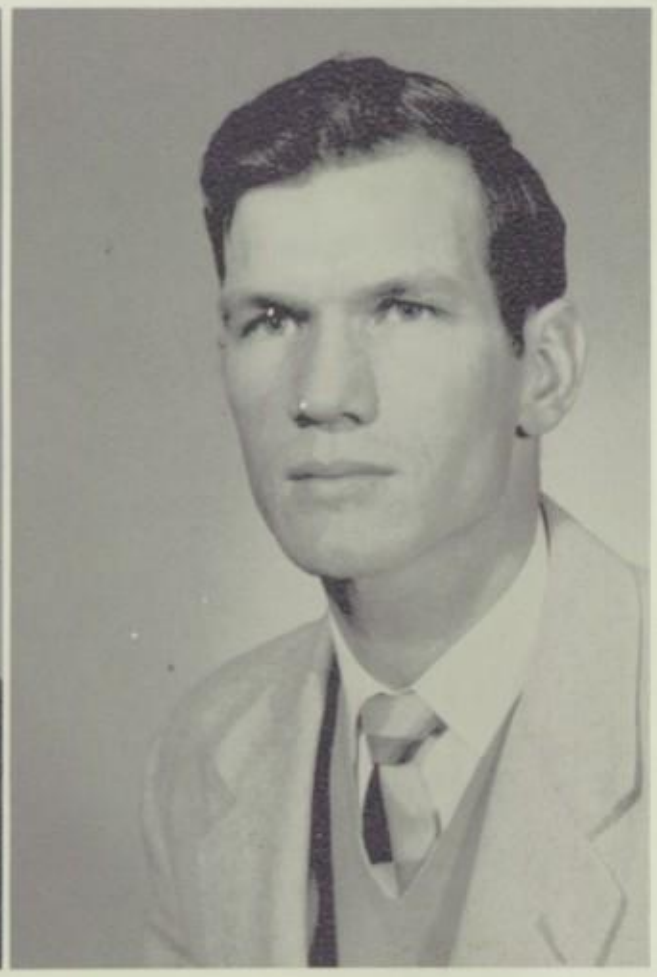
An experienced high school teacher, who came to Loras in 1944, Mrs. Lenehan's teaching duties consist of sophomore geometry and freshman algebra. She attended Iowa City High School and later the State University of Iowa.

MR. C. J. LORENZ, B.A.

Mr. Lorenz is currently completing work on a M.A. in Special Education at the University of Iowa. When he isn't teaching history, geography and special education, he can be found moderating the alumni committee, or directing the technical end of dramatics and the business division of the Crest.

REV. KENNETH J. LUKAN, B.A.

Coming to us five years ago from Sacred Heart Church in Dubuque, Father Lukan has deeply established himself as a topnotch dramatics director. A favorite teacher among the freshmen, he teaches five classes of first year English.



MRS. GEORGE McCARTEN, B.A.

A graduate of Rosary College, River Forrest, Illinois, Mrs. McCarten came to Loras Academy in 1945 as Librarian. She comes from Dubuque and has two married daughters, one of whom is married to Mr. Hurm.

MR. ROBERT O'CONNELL, B.A.

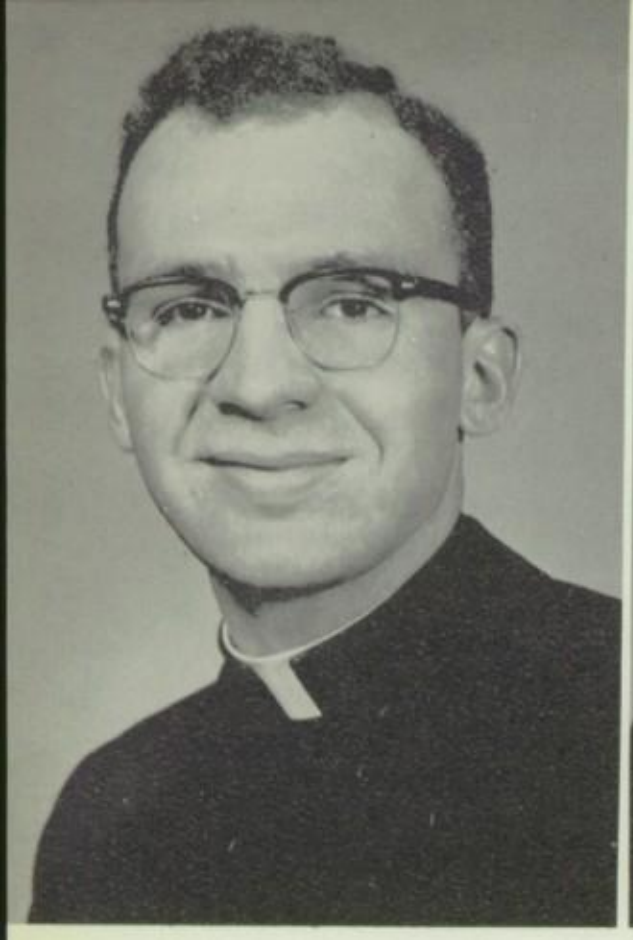
Completing his first year of teaching physics and algebra at Loras, Mr. O'Connell can relax for the summer. After graduating from Our Lady of Victory Academy in Waterloo, he attended Loras College and received his B.A. from Iowa State Teachers College in 1954.

REV. FRANCIS J. PERRY, B.A.

Typing, advanced typing, office machines and practice are the classes conducted by Father Perry. He is also the assistant athletic director and heads the sports publicity department. He graduated from Loras College in 1946 and was appointed to the Academy in 1953.

REV. JOHN J. PITZEN, M.A.

Coming to Loras in 1948, Father Pitzen teaches junior and freshman religion, freshman Latin, and debate. He is also chaplain of St. Joseph's Sanitarium and in the spring finds time to sandwich in the coaching of the Loras Academy baseball team.



REV. THOMAS W. RHOMBERG, M.A.

Although coming here only last fall, Father Rhomberg was wise to the ways of Loras Academy, for he, as a student, had spent four previous years in these hallowed halls. He teaches American government and national problems, sophomore Latin and coaches the freshman football team.

REV. JOHN C. SIMS, S.T.B., M.A.

Teacher of world history and homeroom teacher of 2B, Father Sims came to the Academy in 1938. Father was stationed at Sacred Heart, Oelwein, Iowa, prior to his assignment to Loras.

M-Sgt. WARREN L. STRAWN

Coming to Loras in 1952, Sgt. Strawn continues the task of coaching the Loras Academy rifle team. A native of St. Charles, Illinois, he received his high school training at Dyersville, Iowa.

CAPT. LAWRENCE TAIT, P.M.S.T.

For the past three years, Captain Tait has carried out the duties of P.M.S.T. for the R.O.T.C. battalion. He has truly been outstanding in both the teaching of military science and guidance of cadets under his command.

MR. GAILEN P. THOMAS, B.A.

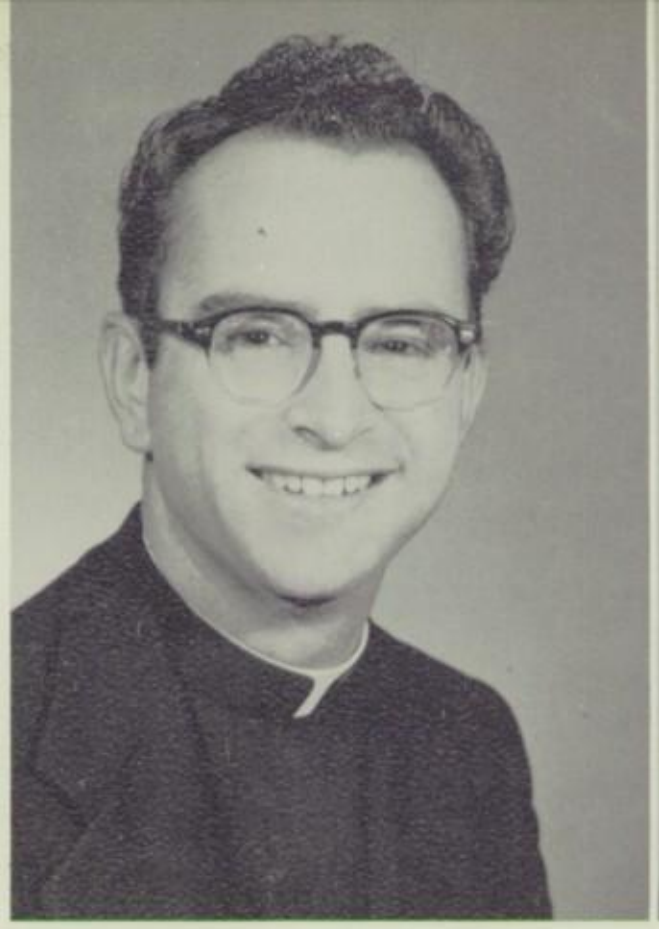
The man who for the last ten years has won the admiration and respect of every athlete who has ever played football for Loras is currently known as "Mr. Football of Loras Academy." Mr. Thomas rounds out his schedule with mathematics, plane geometry and track.

REV. EUGENE J. WEIMER, M.A.

Hailed as the busiest man on campus, Father Weimer directs all the athletics on the Loras campus and coaches the golf team on the side. He has a full schedule of classes in sophomore and freshman English and holds down the position of guidance director.

REV. NORMAN WHITE, B.A.

Known for his orderly and well planned classes in American History, world history and freshman religion, Father White is equally famous for his duties as chaplain of the Y.C.S., moderator of the cheerleaders and the parties and publicity committees of the student council.



MRS. M. A. WIEHL, B.A.

Coming to Loras in 1945, Mrs. Wiehl has gained the reputation of being an outstanding instructor in consumers mathematics, advanced algebra, trigonometry and solid geometry. She is a native of Dubuque and a graduate of the State University of Iowa.

and business staff

MR. C. T. O'DOWD, B.A.

Keeping our school "out of the red" has been the duties of Mr. O'Dowd since he was appointed business manager in June, 1952. "Mike" has been with us since 1939 and he is a graduate of Loras College.

REV. CHARLES W. WHALEN, S.T.B., M.A.

Graduating from Loras College in 1940, Fr. Whalen was formerly an assistant pastor at Nativity Church in Dubuque. He received his advanced degrees from St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore and for the past nine years has acted as Bursar at Loras.

Companionship is dear, especially on a road as large and kind as this. It makes the road all the better. Freshmen on the trail of Sophomores, Juniors eagerly tracking Seniors. When over 700 hit the road at once the conversation is loud, the gait is eager, the lure of adventure ahead inviting.

. . . is decided by the faculty and students in an annual poll conducted by the Log. The purpose of this custom is to select from the senior class the students who have excelled in certain virtues and abilities during their four-year 'journey' through Loras. The outstanding seniors as determined by this poll are listed on this page under their respective traits.

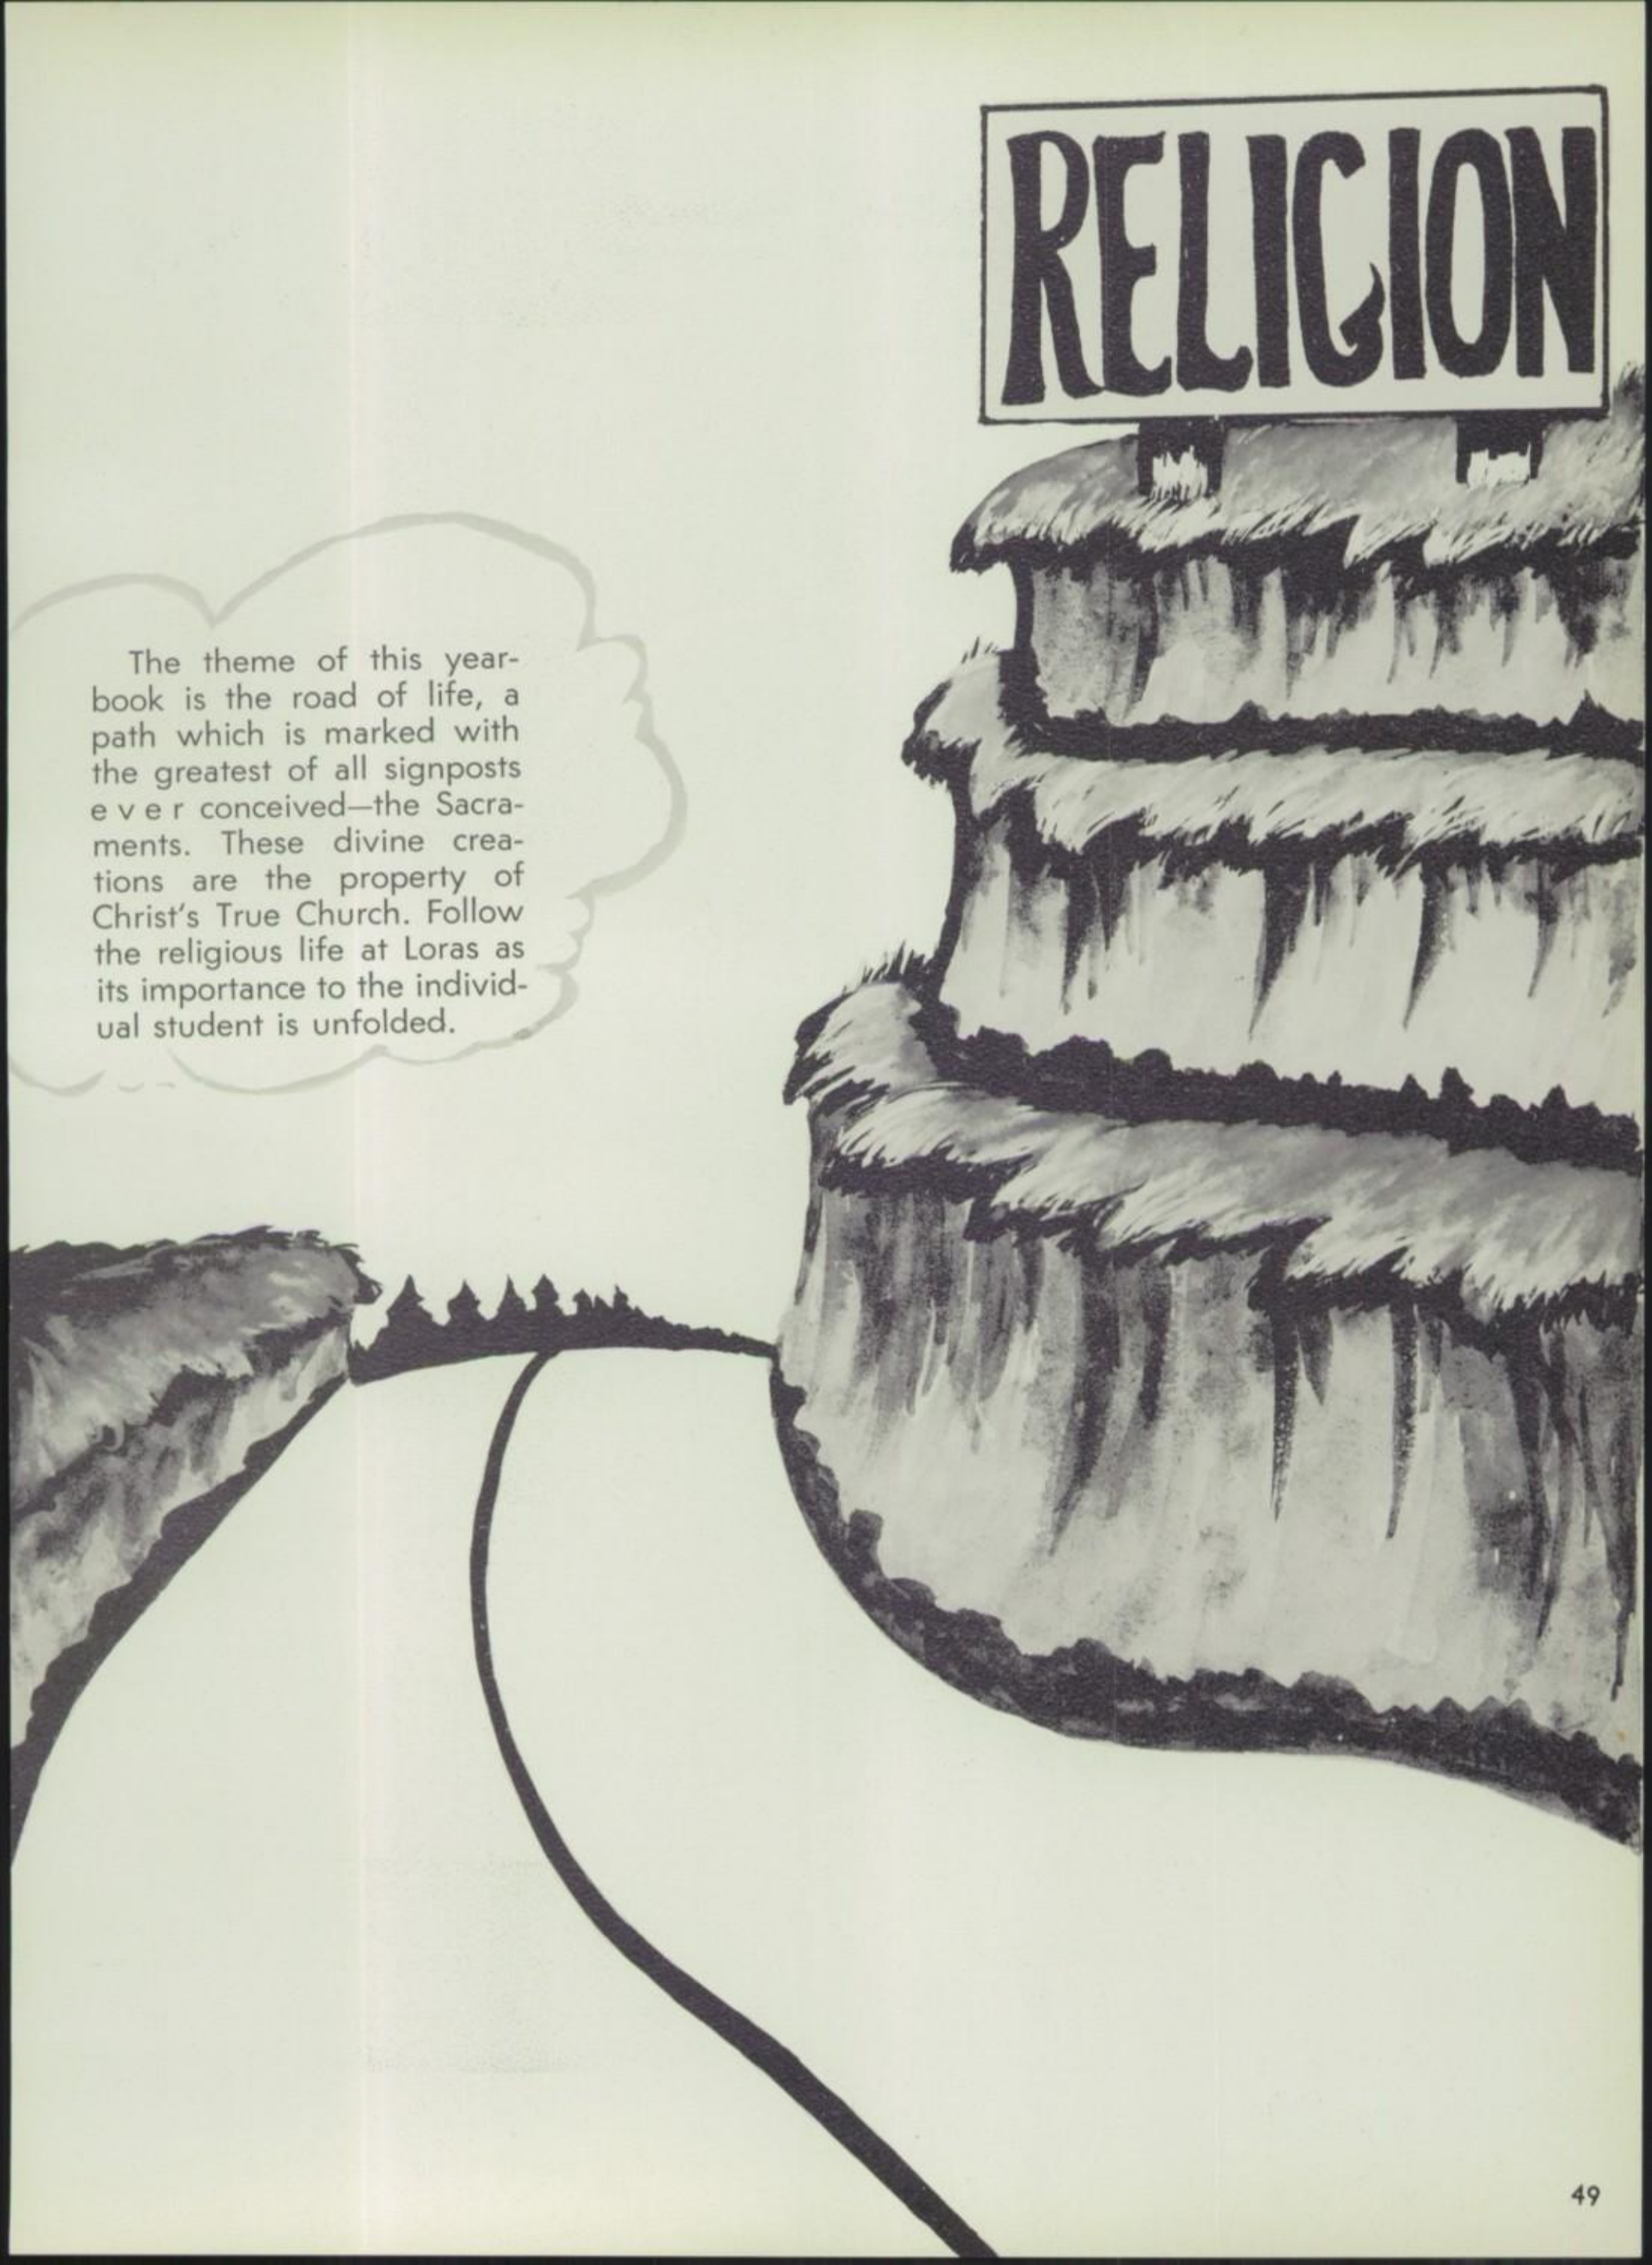
RELIGION

The theme of this yearbook is the road of life, a path which is marked with the greatest of all signposts ever conceived—the Sacraments. These divine creations are the property of Christ's True Church. Follow the religious life at Loras as its importance to the individual student is unfolded.



The Rev. John F. Ryan, retreat master, delivers his final conference to the juniors and seniors at the Mass which closed the retreat.

. . . will always bring with it a spirit of peace and quiet and the annual junior-senior retreat was no exception. For the most part, the campus of Loras Academy was as quiet as a morgue during the three special days, March 1-4.

The retreat was under the direction of the Rev. John F. Ryan, a graduate of both Loras Academy and College.

These days of silence consisted primarily in attending conferences, movies and other religious exercises with the Sacrifice of the Mass beginning each day.

Fr. Ryan's talks thoroughly covered the topic of sin from all standpoints. He frequently stressed the necessity of being prepared and well trained for the problems which we will soon encounter in the world.

The closing Mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. Loras T. Lane, and the final talk and blessing was given by Fr. Ryan. Thus ended the retreat, a time of rest and of spiritual learning on our long "journey."

recollection

. . . was the chief concern for the Freshmen and Sophomores on their Day of Recollection, April 6. The day's activities were directed by the Rev. Cyril Engler.

The activities began with a Sung Mass and the reminder of the day was taken up with conferences, Stations of the Cross, movies, and spiritual reading, ending with a Holy Hour at 2:30.

a good beginning

. . . is half the battle as proven by this year's Orientation program, which was conducted in the individual classrooms.

The program, which is designed to help Academy students now and in later life, was carried on during extended homeroom periods.

Confessions were heard Wednesday and Thursday in preparation for Mass and Holy Communion Friday.

The Orientation week program came to an end, Friday, September 24, with a Low Mass in Christ the King Chapel celebrated by the Rev. Roger E. O'Brien, Academy principal. The Rev. Francis Lana gave the final talk entitled "Continuing Loras Traditions." In it he paid tribute to Sister Amalia, O.S.F., who after 55 years of service at the Academy, retired to the Mother House.

The ultimate aim of the Sodality during this School year is to improve the prayer life of the student by means of mental prayer, the daily rosary, and by discussing spiritual weak points and making resolutions to overcome them.

the 66 method

. . . was used during the third annual Catholic Action Day held for the Dubuque Catholic high school seniors at Loras College, April 15.

This method of discussing a topic for six minutes and then presenting a conclusion was used for the various discussions throughout the day.

A High Mass in the Chapel of Christ the King began the day, with breakfast served afterwards in St. Francis Hall.

Discussions led by Mr. Donald O'Connell, a YCW officer from Joliet, Ill., were held during the day which ended with Solemn Benediction in Christ the King Chapel.

. . . for a half-hour with parents and classmates was the part played by the student in the annual Thirteen Hours Devotion, Sunday, January 16. The Rev. Norman White, Rev. Jerald Blackburn, Rev. John Pitzen and the Rev. Thomas Rhomberg led the prayers at the services conducted in Christ the King Chapel.

Just as those who wander on our symbolic road through life learn better how to achieve their goal through experience, so the students at Loras Academy gain experience for the future years through participation in the various activities and organizations offered to them.

Power brakes! Automatic windows! Every indication is to have a modern automobile that practically drives itself. Even in the olden days, the best horse was the one that knew the way.

The Loras Academy student body also strove to guide itself along its "journey" during the 1954-55 school year by using its student council to the fullest extent. Meeting every other Wednesday during alternate periods, the council decided on legislation by parliamentary procedure.

Friday the homeroom meetings were held, bringing every student into connection with the council action. Then a great share of the actual work was done after school hours. The council sponsored social activities and carried out an intramural athletic program. It also governed itself by use of the student court and monitors.

All these activities definitely helped Loras to say nothing of the experience gained in running an efficient self-government.

The administration of the night out and monitor system was the chief responsibility of this year's boarder council. One of the major projects of the council was the sponsoring of the "Boarder Big Brother Burro Bazaar." This program was held at the beginning of the school year in order to acquaint the new students with the upperclassmen at Loras.

The inter-school council consists of representatives from the Visitation, Immaculate Conception, and St. Joseph's Academies, St. Columbkille's High School and Loras Academy.

Two main projects were inaugurated by the group for this year. The girls concentrated their efforts on a modesty in dress drive, while the boys conducted a good literature campaign.

A calendar of events, including all the activities of each school has been published by the council. The purpose of this calendar is to promote greater interest in activities sponsored by any one of the schools and to avoid conflicting dates.

Catholic Action Day was also planned and carried out under the powers of the council.

. . . behind the operation of the student council was furnished by its committees. It was the duty of these committees to sponsor the various activities of the student council, which were conducted during the school year. Below are listed the eight committees and the respective accomplishments of each.

RELIGIOUS COMMITTEE

The many duties of this committee consisted of stocking the pamphlet rack, making religious posters, erecting the Christmas crib, and performing various services during the Retreat. Bob Goodsell was in charge of its operation.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Sponsoring the magazine drive and the bus trips were two of the duties of this committee. Under the guidance of Alan Eberhardt the committee also conducted the collections for the public health programs.

DANCE COMMITTEE

Under the co-chairmanship of Bill Conzett and Ed O'Brien, the dance committee sponsored the three main dances during the school year.

PARTY COMMITTEE

Under the direction of Tony McMahan, the party committee worked hard to sandwich in as many mixers on open dates as possible.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Thanks to the assembly committee and Pat Palzkill, the students were furnished with many programs and enjoyable entertainment during the year.

INTRAMURAL COMMITTEE

The regulation and conduction of the intramural program was the job of Don Stouse's committee. The committee provided activities in many sports for the students.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

Headed by Bart Brown, the publicity committee was in charge of making posters and publicizing forthcoming activities of the council.

ALUMNI COMMITTEE

The alumni committee organized and supervised the Loras Academy Alumni Association. The committee, supervised by Terry Hogan, also furnished the graduates with all information concerning school activities.

Rev. John J. Pitzen, debate coach, briefs an important article to the class.

. . . the value of speech is beyond estimation. Members from the junior and senior classes devoted two hours each week to study the topic and hold intra-squad debates, plus plenty of work outside of class in preparing and perfecting deliveries to attain their hard earned status.

The topic, Resolved: That the federal government should initiate a policy of free trade with nations friendly to the United States, provided fuel for many a hot debate witnin the class and for practice debates with Lancaster and Bellevue teams.

Five seniors qualified for the State finals as the debate team tied for first place in the district tournament, at Cedar Rapids. The debate team was rated among the top ten teams in the state with a 6 won and 6 lost record at Iowa City.

a closer relationship

. . . between school and home was the aim of the Loras Academy Mothers' and Dads' Clubs, which participated in and sponsored many school activities during the year.

The Mothers' Club began their schedule of activities this year with their fall card party, followed by the annual Christmas party. Helping out at the Military Ball and Spring Prom along with sponsoring the band trip to the Immaculate Conception-Loras Academy basketball game at Cedar Rapids, and the graduation breakfast were some more of the Mothers' Club activities.

The annual membership drive was the first business on schedule for the Dads' Club, and this year, as in previous years, it was handled through the homerooms.

The highlight of the Dads' Club activities for the year was their annual Dads' Day of Recollection. The Dads' Club also sponsored the football and spring banquets.

Serving as officers in this year's Dads' Club were, left to right: Mr. Anthony Eberhardt, Vice President; Mr. Frank Delany, Secretary; and Mr. Clem Hogan, President.

Father Lukan gives a few last minute pointers to the cast of "Curtain Going Up" prior to their first performance.

"curtain going up"

. . . created a tremendous hit when the Loras Academy dramatics club presented this three-act comedy to the student body and the public.

The play, which was under the direction of the Rev. Kenneth Lukan, told the story of a young dramatics teacher and the trouble that can develop in putting on the annual school play. Student love affairs, swiping of play scripts, arguments, and apologies were all part of the side-splitting comedy.

Mr. Cliff Lorenz designed and built the fabulous set for the production.

Students from Loras also took part in plays at the Immaculate Conception and St. Joseph's girls academies.

there's little glee

. . . and much work in preparing for a concert.

The Loras Academy Glee Club found that a great deal of work goes into success. Many practices and preparations were necessary for the various programs presented throughout the year.

The Glee Club met regularly Wednesday evenings and Friday during study halls. Additional rehearsals were held prior to the performances under the direction of the Rev. Jerald F. Blackburn.

At the annual spring concert, presented May 1, a "Revue of Song" was staged with the addition of lights and costumes to fine music. The music featured military, folk and musical comedy numbers.

The first appearance of the Glee Club was a dual performance. A Christmas program was given for the Mothers' Club Christmas party. The same program was presented for the Altar and Rosary Society at Sacred Heart Church in Dubuque.

The Glee Club also added its 75 voices to those of the other Catholic high schools of Dubuque in the City Music Festival, March 24.

THE JUNIORS not only provided needed vocal punch, but will also form the nucleus of next year's glee club.

A small, but very potent group of SOPHOMORES completed the vocal ensemble of the glee club.

future travelers

. . . on the road to success had a glimpse at the fields which interested them most, April 22, when about 70 community and business firms invited the juniors from the six high schools of Dubuque to participate in Career Day.

The Chamber of Commerce worked with Fr. Hirsch, his committee here at Loras and with spokesmen from the other schools so that the students might learn the advantages and disadvantages of various careers.

The morning started off with a short program in the Senior High School Auditorium. The students then became the guests of the company or firm which they had previously chosen to visit. This gave each student the opportunity to further investigate the field of his preference.

In preparation for this day the juniors earlier in the year had been tested as to their preferences and aptitudes.

. . . of a successful football season the varsity, sophomore and freshman football squads were guests at a banquet following the climax of the season.

Tait Cummins, sports announcer from Cedar Rapids, was the main speaker. In his address he stated that the team had a real challenge from week to week because of the long distances traveled and the high calibre of competition played. Mr. Cummins lauded the team on their fine record and encouraged them to continue to be good sports in later life.

Paul Brown acted as master of ceremonies for the evening's activities, which included talks by the Rev. Roger O'Brien, principal of Loras Academy, the Most Rev. Loras T. Lane, principal of Loras College and Gub coach, Gailen Thomas.

Webster defines a log as a daily record of a ship's progress. It is also described as a book into which these records are entered.

The Loras Academy Log lives up to the name given it by accurately recording the events of the past year's activities that contribute to the journey towards our goal.

Moreover, it records the accomplishments of the seniors for their four years at Loras.

The main duties of the editors consisted of planning the book, making up pages, writing cutlines and editing stories. The literary and sports staffs took charge of the writing of stories.

The business staff sold the ads, while the photography and arts staff developed and printed most of the pictures. The Rev. Ernest J. Engler was moderator for the second year.

. . . of St. Joseph's Hall for ten Wednesday nights shone far into the night. But it was no mystery what was going on; it was make-up night for the school newspaper, the Crest.

After the paper is put to bed and worries of missing or late stories, page balance, and headline writing are behind, all that remains is to check the proof and distribute the paper to over 700 eager students.

The Crest is put out as an extracurricular activity by students interested in literary writing and journalistic training. It informs the students of current happenings, important coming events, classroom news and information on alumni.

Just as the historians record world events by the written word, so the Crest records school history. The Crest records the accomplishments of the student body in many fields, including athletics, arts, social events and scholastic achievements.

While the Crest is busy informing the students of school events, the news publicity department under the guidance of the Rev. Robert Hirsch and the sports publicity department headed by the Rev. Francis Perry keep the public informed of school activities by sending stories of these events to various news outlets.

The news publicity department handles all curricular and extracurricular activities, sending both advance and follow-up stories to the newspapers.

It is the job of the sports department to publicize all games and events in the field of sports.

Late Sunday morning, the day of the scheduled game with St. Ambrose, the Monsoons set in. A heavy downpour continued throughout the day forcing the cancellation of the game. . . . of the year caused much excitement on the Loras campus. "Who will be lieutenant colonel? Where is the 'gang' going afterwards? What time is the grand march?" All this and more was the conversation to be heard on the afternoon of January 21 with the Military Ball only hours off.

The hours of activity slipped by quickly and in a short time the annual Military Ball was well under way, 250 couples dancing to the charming melodies of Jimmy Featherstone and his orchestra.

A huge chandelier, suspended over the center of the dance floor, highlighted the decorations. Two 12 foot silhouettes of cadets in uniform flanked the bandstand. A 23 foot flag was hung directly in back of the orchestra and the traditional theme of red, white and blue was carried out in the lighting and smaller chandeliers around the hall.

At 9:30 the grand march was formed after which the cadets received their commissions and the congratulations of all present.

The Loras Academy Band, under the direction of Mr. Vaughn Gayman, extreme right, standing.

"was that the academy band?"

They never sounded like that before!" This was the comment heard after many of the Loras basketball games this year, as the fans tried to figure out why the band had such a different sound.

The secret was simple. It was merely the completion of a trend started last year by the director, Mr. Vaughn Gayman. A trend that changed the style of the band from a military to a dance band. Fox trots, waltzes, and touches of jazz came from the familiar corner along with the traditional band music.

. . . poses for the Log photographer after a successful rehearsal in St. Joseph's Auditorium.

This change was possible because among the 57 pieces in the band there was a nucleus of a dance band—saxes, trumpets, trombones, clarinets, and drums. With all of these instruments playing in a dance rhythm the sound amazed all the fans. Whoever heard the band this year would agree that it was the best ever.

Though now using a dance style, the band can also be a military marching band as evidenced twice during the past school year. In the fall of the year, the band marched for the retirement of an army sergeant. Later in the spring, they again marched on the annual Parent-Faculty Day and for the Federal Inspection ceremonies.

The band went on their annual basketball trip to Cedar Rapids where they literally enchanted the crowd at the Loras-I.C. game.

A set of powerful, speedy backs coupled with a rough and ready, hard charging line giving their all until the final gun, sets the standard for football at Loras. Against the tops in opposition, the Gubs showed their fighting spirit and good sportsmanship, even in defeat, winning the respect of their opponents for their hard playing and ground gaining running. The Golden Gubs of '54 can rank with the best in LA football.

The Loras Rock Bowl echoes with yells of "Go Gubs" as once again the fans of Loras Academy football see the fine results of the coaching efforts of Mr. Thomas and Mr. Dale in action.

Featuring a well balanced attack on both air and ground, the purple and gold gridders showed both power and drive in line bucks and the necessary speed in lengthy end runs. A smooth aerial attack coupled with an explosive offensive line and an equally able defense gave the Loras Academy pigskin pugilists of '54 five wins in an eight game season.

the season was a rough one;

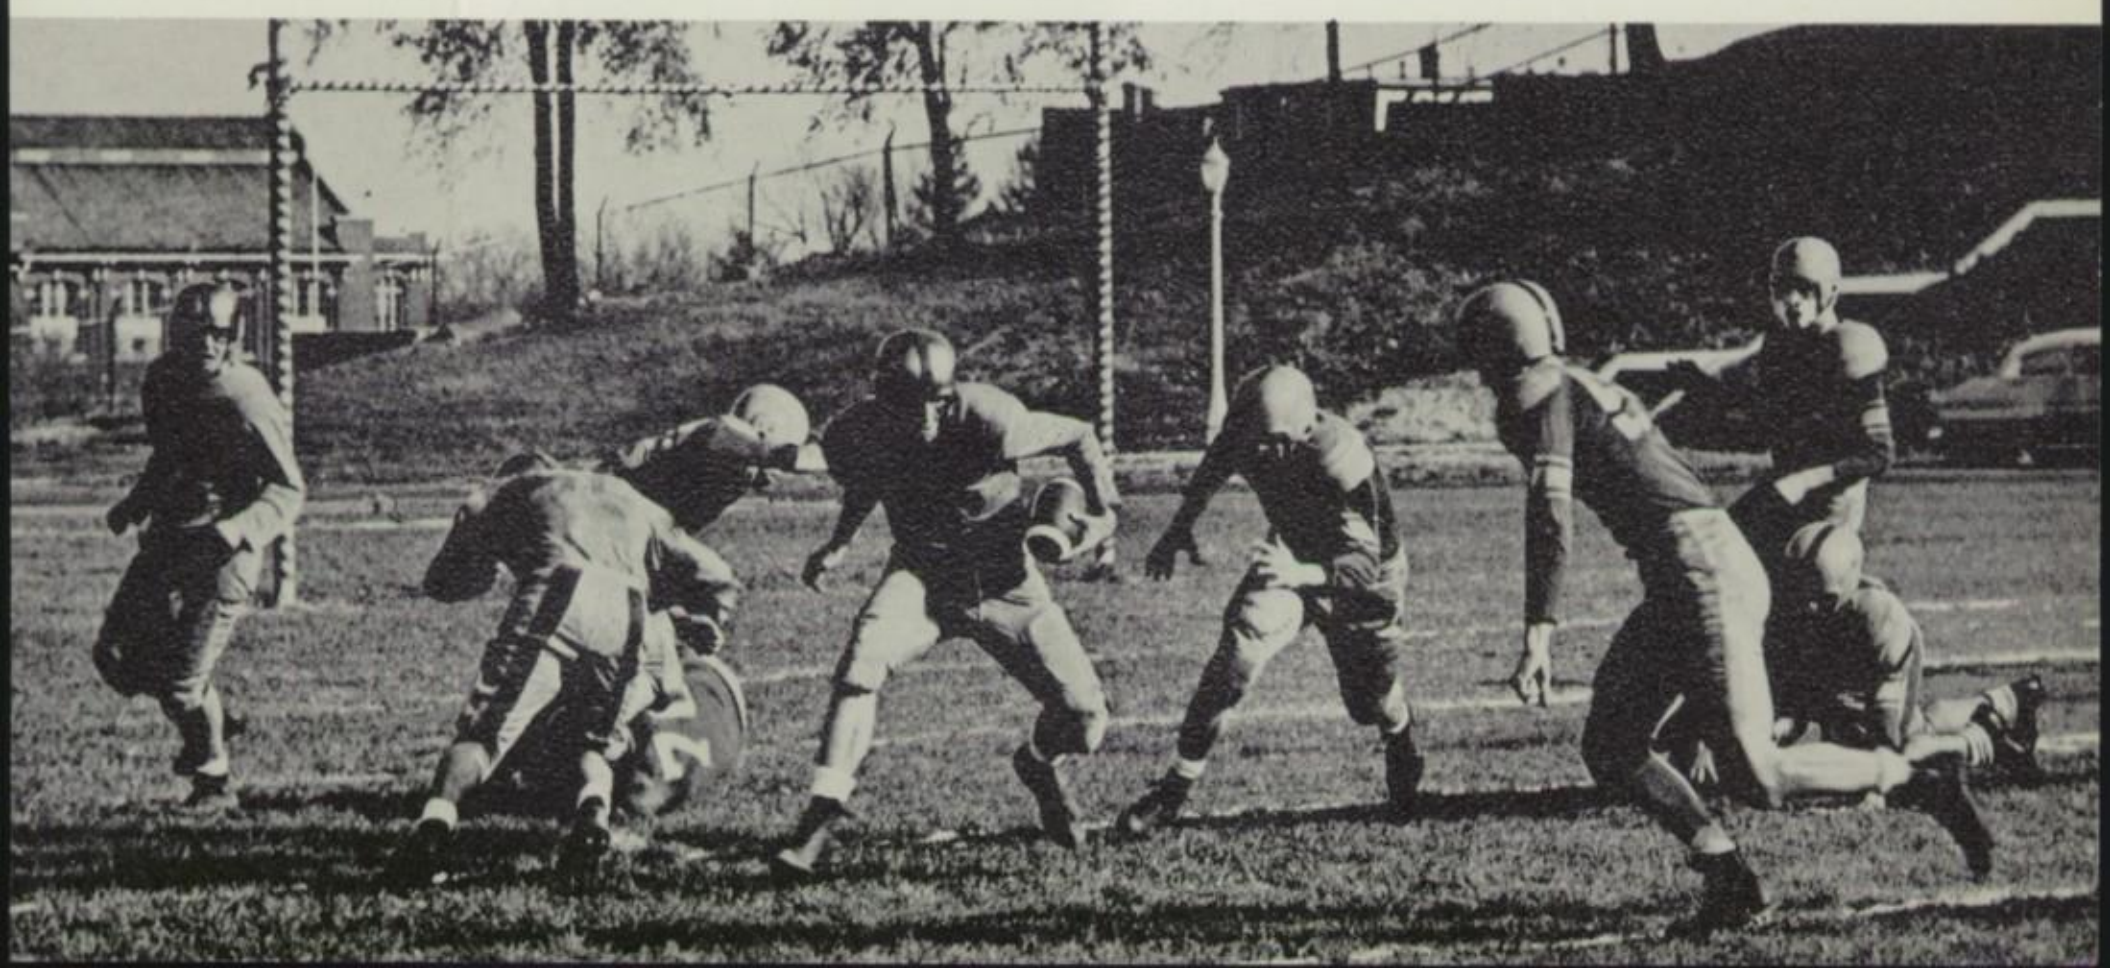
. . . the opener matched the Gubs against the Clinton River Kings under the lights on Senior High field. Butler's smashes led the 19 to 0 onslaught. Scores came on a 25 yard jaunt by Butler, a one yard crash by Higgins, and a 43 yard aerial from Higgins to Murphy. Higgins dove over for the conversion.

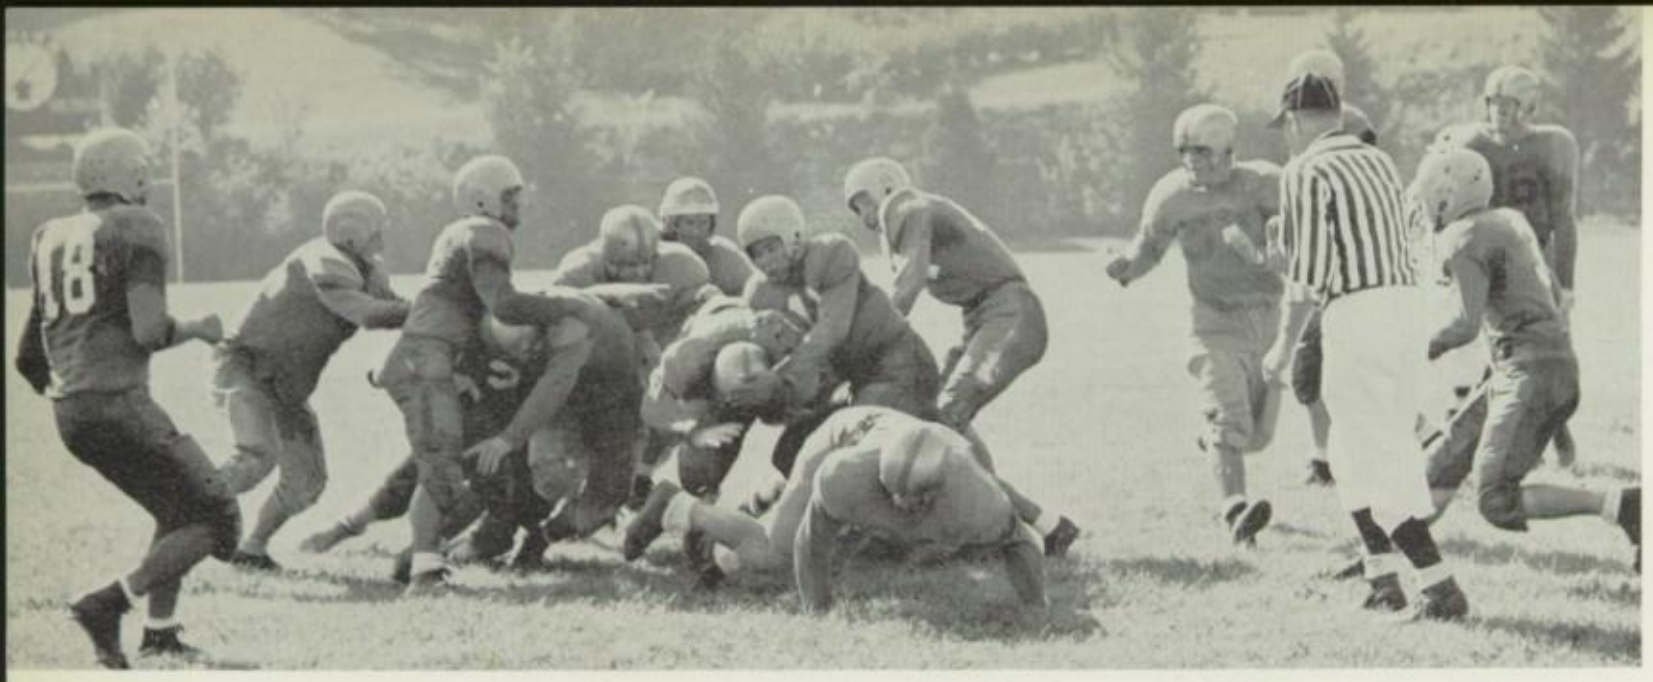
Trailing Boys Town 19 to 0 at halftime, the Gubs rallied for 13 points in the final quarter before conceding by a score of 19 to 13. Murphy's 75 yard punt return highlighted the last minute showing. Another short smash by Higgins and Stecklein's conversion tallied 7 points earlier.

The Gubs romped 40 to 6 over Logan, with Gub backs racking up a total of 356 yards, while holding the LaCrosse team to 138. Stellar running and pass catching netted Stecklein 19 points of the Gub total on sprints of 12 and 6 yards and a 47 yard pass reception. Butler, on a 26 yard run, Murphy, with a 35 yard runback of an intercepted pass, and Osterberger, on a 12 yard pass play, added the other Gub TD's.

Pouring rain kept the game scoreless during the first half of the Loras-Campion game. Osterberger hauled in passes of 20 and 30 yards to help bring the ball to the three where Butler smashed over to set the final score at 6-0.

Quarterback Chuck Higgins knifes through the Aquinas line for eight yards.





Gub wedge tears through the middle of Boys Town line.

A versatile Gub attack plus an immovable defense crushed the Dowling Maroons 32 to 0 at Des Moines. Murphy picked up two touchdowns on a 20 yard gallop and a lengthy pass from Higgins. Osterberger snagged a scoring pass from Murphy, and picked up another score cantering 20 yards with an intercepted pitchout. Stecklein grabbed a 30 yard pass and scooted for 30 more with the aerial to score. Stecklein and Higgins each converted one.

Two trips in a row to the state capitol proved too much for the Gubs as they added a second loss to their 4 and 1 record when Roosevelt rode roughshod over the Gubs 26 to 0.

Game honors went to Butler again as he drove for two touchdowns to set the Gubs up for their fifth win, 13 to 0 over Aquinas in a delayed Homecoming tilt. Thrusts of seven and two yards gave the fullback his credits and a conversion by Stecklein filled the sum. The Homecoming crowd saw the Loras defensive unit, sparked by Weihs, push the Blugolds to a minus nine yards rushing in the second half and smother them in yards rushing 225 to 19 for the whole game.

At Sioux City, Heelan backers cheered their team to an 18 to 13 win over the Gubs who were without the services of injured halfback Murphy. Both teams scored in the second period with Esslinger carrying for the Gubs. Stecklein converted to give Loras a slim 7-6 margin. Higgins pulled out a TD in the third period, but Heelan scored two on a pass and punt return.

. . . under the able coaching of the Rev. John C. Simms and his assistant, Bob Fitzgerald, split their five game season into a deficit of 2 wins and 3 losses. The Gublets dropped a tilt to the Campion sophs by a score of 31 to 0; but were strong enough in later season to down them in a return game with a 6 to 0 closeout.

Their meeting with Dubuque Senior sophs resulted in a close 14 to 12 loss, but the rivals were felled 12 to 9 in a second match. Final game of the season saw the Gublets fall to the St. Ambrose sophs by a score of 8 to 0. Soph monogram winners are Glen Altfillesch, Mike Callahan, John Chappell, John Frommelt, Orlin Helbing, Jim Kemp, Jim McDowell, Dave Manders, Ralph Mueller, Dick Murphy, Ron Nauman, Dave Ochs, Dan Rellihan, Mike Rigney, Tom Vandera, Gerry Weiderholt, Bruce Williams, and Dan Wright.

. . . was plagued with injuries which resulted in a poor showing for the season. The Rev. Thomas A. Rhomberg, coach, and his two assistants, Joe Ottavi and Fred May, were continually remodeling a starting eleven in hopes of winning that first game, but the Gubbies could only pull out 3 tie games while suffering 3 defeats in their season. The frosh were blanked 12-0 and 6-0 by Washington and East Dubuque respectively, and tied Jefferson 6 to 6 before losing to East Dubuque again, 6 to 0. Two more games resulted in 0 to 0 ties with Washington and Jefferson. Frosh monogram winners are Bob Bierie, Vince Burbank, Jerry Gremmel, Dick Kiefer, Dan Krammer, John McClosky, Leo Meno, Mark Mulvehill, Tom Carney, Don Noel, Peter Spodin, Dave Rabe, John Regnier, James Smith, Ron Timmerman, Tom Toner, and Don Vandermillen.

on the basketball court

. . . the Gubs found another successful season to write into the records of sports at Loras Academy. Under their mentor, Coach Van P. Combs, the Gubs authored a 13-6 record in season play for '54-55. With three returning regulars from last year's successful squad, Coach Combs built a team to cope with the best in the district.

The Golden Gubs played host to 11 teams in the Loras Fieldhouse, and encountered opponents on foreign courts in 8 games; losing only two games while on the road.

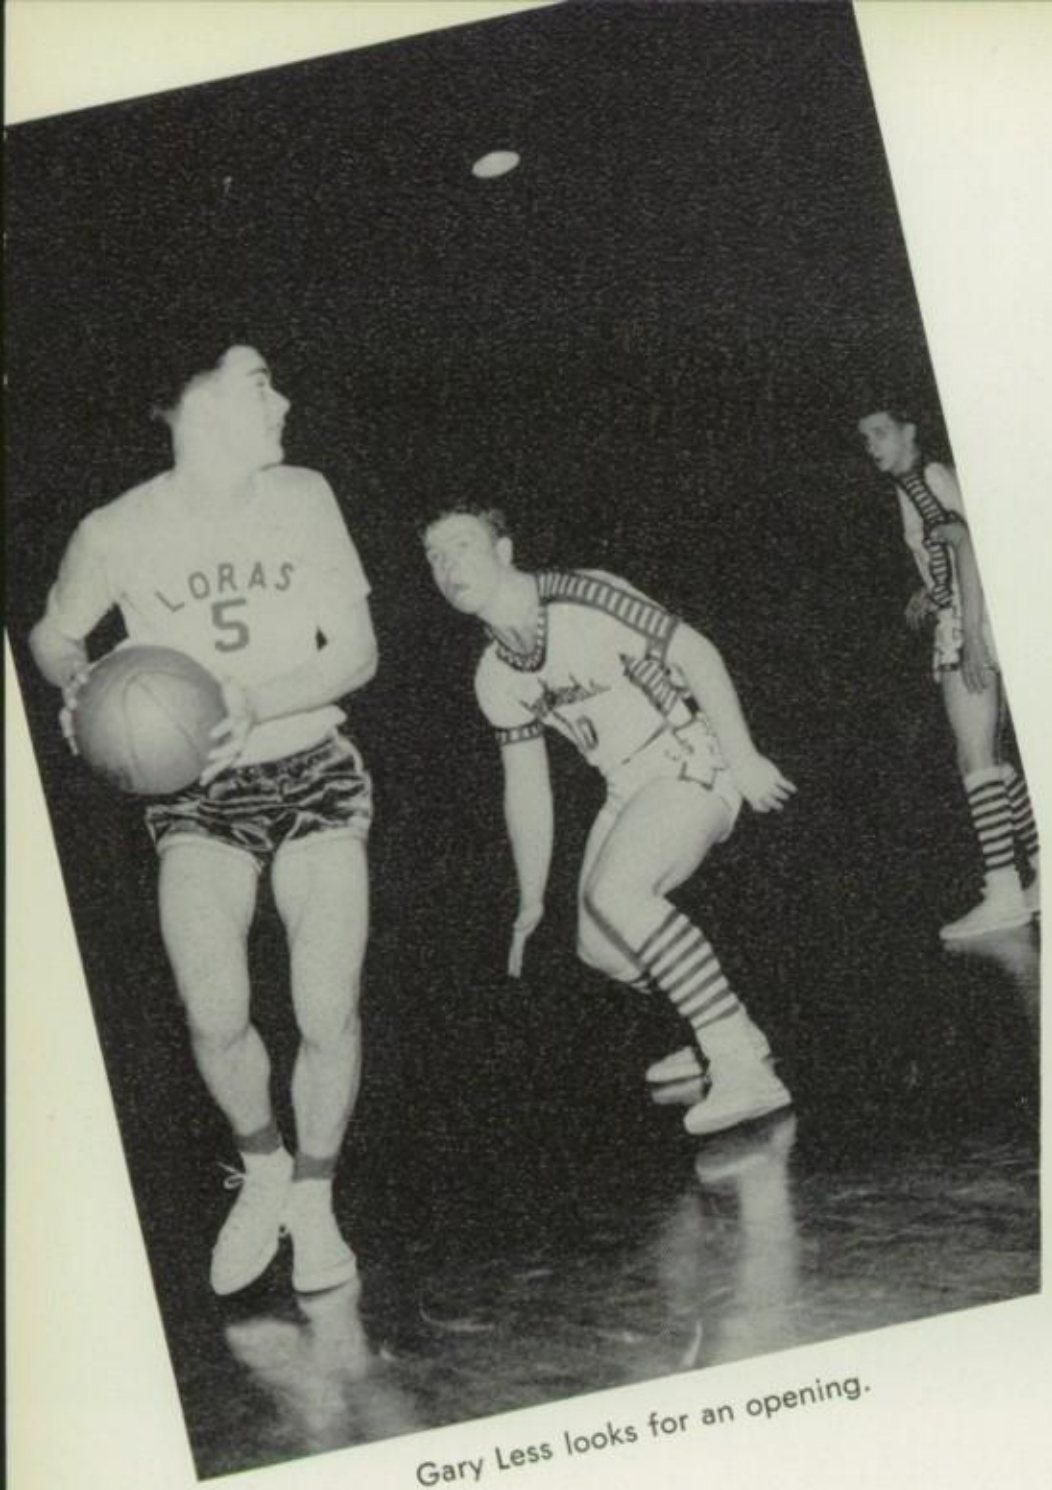
The Gubs opened with three straight victories on the road, traveling first to Platteville where the Golden quint fought their way to a 65 to 60 win over the rangy Platteville club. Over the holidays, two Milwaukee teams suffered defeats at the hands of the once tried Loras five. Don Bosco fell before the Gub's onslaught, 58 to 51, with center Bill Rhomberg tallying 17 points for the game honors. St. John's Cathedral was handed a 55-48 setback in another hard-fought game.

Sparked by the little but dangerous guard, Dick Breitbach, and the unstoppable point getter, Rhomberg, the Gubs swept past Eau Claire Regis, 63 to 50, to give the home fans a first glimpse of the potent Academy five. Rhomberg led the Gubs with 27 points, followed by Breitbach with 14. Loras fired the hoops for a .328 percentage to record their fifth straight win when they defeated Iowa School for the Deaf, 65 to 48, on the home court. The scoreboard stood at Loras 60—Campion 31 at the end of a game which saw Coach Combs clear the Loras bench. Rhomberg and Breitbach hit 19 and 18 respectively to give the Gub quint six straight victories.

The Gubs traveled once again and met St. Ambrose in a game which spelled "finis" to Loras' hopes of defeating the Knights. The Gubs just couldn't get started and the Knights shone, 53 to 36, to hand out the first defeat of the season to the Gubs. Breitbach with 11 and Pete Beaves with 10 points topped the Gub scoring column.



Gary Less looks for an opening.

Pete Beaves shoots for two points.

The score stood 62-62 with 4 seconds remaining in the Loras-Keokuk game, when a desperation shot by the Keokuk center managed to bounce through the hoop and set the final score in favor of the Chiefs, 64 to 62. Immaculate Conception took toll of the Gubs in another heartbreaker by a margin of 6 points, 67 to 61. The Gub slump reached its peak when they dropped another encounter with the St. Ambrose Knights, 68 to 64, on the Loras floor. Don Callahan was slated as a future regular when he scored 17 points against the Davenport five, topped only by Rhomberg with 20. The Gub record thus far in the season stood at a dismal 5 wins and 4 defeats.

High scoring Bill Rhomberg hit an amazing 60 per cent of his shots for a total of 30 points to break the Gub losing streak as they trounced the Aquinas cagers, 68 to 49, at La Crosse. Dowling, highly rated for its 14 game undefeated season, came to the Big Four meet with hopes of adding a soft victory over the Gubs to its record. But the Gubs were far from accepting the odds and smashed the Des Moines team, 66 to 63, in an overtime game. Rhomberg dealt out 26 points against the Maroons while Callahan added 16. Elated after their Dowling victory, the Gubs went on to defeat Heelan of Sioux City the next day, 67 to 54.

On the road, the Loras Academy cagers decked Campion 75 to 63, for their tenth win, with Rhomberg leading the way once again with 24 points; Gary Less had 11 of 13 points on free throws. Regis fell 53 to 44 before the Golden quint, to bring the Gubs' record to 11-4.

Loras Academy's cagers entertained and buried Aquinas by a score of 87 to 48, as Rhomberg had his biggest night of the season to the tune of 39 points. The following Wednesday the I. C. Greyhounds topped the Gubs, 66-61, at Cedar Rapids. Alleman of Rock Island gave the Gub five a 60 to 44 racking when Beaves and Rhomberg fouled out in the fourth quarter.

Don Callahan jumps to clear an attempted block and swishes a long one.

Toning up for the all important meeting with the Senior Rams in the District Tournament, the Golden Gubs flattened Platteville, 68 to 48, ending the Platteville winning streak at 16. The Hillmen had hung up one of Wisconsin's most impressive winning streaks. Guard Bob Roth shone for the Gubs with 17 points gained at a .727 clip.

The Gubs went out with a flourish, playing their best game of the season when the Dubuque Senior Rams narrowly escaped an impressive Loras Academy showing, by a score of 57 to 55, in the district tournament game held at Senior. The Rams were rated second in the district while the Gubs held eleventh spot. Loras led by five points at halftime, and it looked like this might be the year; but a lucky tip-in by the Ram's reserve center spelled a defeat for the Golden five. Beaves topped the Gubs' scoring with 21 points and his faking gave the Lorasmen enough steam to outplay the Rams for most of the four quarters. Rhomberg hit for 19 points and Breitbach showed his usual control in a fine showing from his guard spot.

. . . are an important part of sports life at Loras Academy. Under the student council intramural committee, all games were scheduled, refereed, and scored by the students themselves.

Noon hour basketball games, held all through the winter months in the gym, had all the thrills of varsity contests with plenty of students on hand in the balcony to cheer their favorite team on.
